

R O P E R
Remodeling & Installation

Job Title: General Laborer/Jack-of-All-Trades:

Do you find joy in fixing things that others only see as “future problems”? Are you the friend who always brings tools to a house party, just in case? If you nodded, smiled, or said, “Hey, that’s me!”—we want YOU to join our team!

What You'll Do With Roper Remodel & Installation (besides showing off your impressive tool collection):

- You'll be the go-to for patching, painting, and updating walls. You'll transform drywall into art, one coat at a time.
- From laying tiles that line up perfectly to flooring that's smoother than butter, you'll assist in making every step count (and look good too).
- Whether it's precision trim work or making the outside of a building look snazzy with some slick siding, you'll have a hand in it all.
- Basic electrical and plumbing maintenance? You've got it covered, ensuring that sparks fly only when they're supposed to (and water stays where it belongs).
- You'll be the charming middleman, keeping everyone from management to customers in the loop. If there's maintenance or remodeling on the horizon, they'll hear it from you first.
- While you're busy being awesome at your job, you'll also make sure every customer is left with a smile, knowing they're in great hands.

What You Bring to the Table (besides your stellar personality):

- A high school diploma or GED certificate—because knowledge is power.
- The ability to lift at least 50 lbs—and brag about it later.
- Proficiency with basic hand tools and power tools—and the know-how to use them without losing a finger.
- Reliable transportation—because being fashionably late doesn't apply to job sites.
- A flexible schedule—ready to roll with whatever the day brings.
- Mechanical aptitude—you know which end of the hammer to use, and that's just the start.
- Contractor or journeyman license—if you've got one, you're basically our hero.

Why Join Us?

- Competitive pay for your hard work and sweat (no tears needed).
- A team that's more like a family, minus the awkward holiday gatherings.
- Endless opportunities to flex your skills and learn new ones.
- The satisfaction of fixing things and making people happy (seriously, it's addictive).

Ready to be the unsung hero of job sites everywhere? Apply now and let's get to work!
