

Job Title: Paint Professional & Drywall Doctor

Do you believe a fresh coat of paint can solve world peace (or at least make a wall look less depressing)? Then put down that paintbrush (for now) and check out this incredible opportunity to join our team of painting pros!

With StraightLine Painting Company:

- Transform plain drywall into a masterpiece with your flawless application of paint and other magical coatings. Watch those surfaces go from "meh" to "wow" under your skilled hands.
- You know how to prep a surface so well that even the wall says, "Thank you!" Whether it's sanding or just giving it a good wipe down, you're the surface's best friend.
- Fixing holes? No problem! You'll patch, spackle, and prep like it's your calling, ensuring every wall is smoother than a jazz sax solo.
- Whether it's blending the perfect shade of "Eggshell Dream" or "Almost Off-White," you'll have paint colors swirled and twirled to perfection.
- Up, down, and around you go, setting up and breaking down scaffolding with the grace of a ninja (but with a little more visibility). Safety first, fun second!
- Hanging drywall? You do it like it's no big deal—because to you, it isn't! You're the unsung hero of room transformations.
- No brush left uncleaned, no nozzle left unattended. You'll end each day with your tools as spotless as the walls you've painted, because that's just how you roll.

Requirements:

- A steady hand and a good eye for detail (seriously, that tape line is crucial).
- Ability to wear paint splatter as a fashion statement.
- A positive attitude and willingness to joke about walls all day.
- Bonus points if you've ever thought, "This wall could use a little something... maybe me!"

What We Offer:

- Competitive pay (because you're worth it).
- An endless supply of paint puns and dad jokes.
- A supportive team that'll help you brush up on your skills.
- The satisfaction of making walls across the city look fabulous.
